Quality Policy

ArcelorMittal Long Products Canada

Quality is a core value of ArcelorMittal.

As such, ArcelorMittal Long Products Canada makes every effort to have its steel products in the form of slabs, billets and rolled products meet the expectations of its customers.

To do this, ArcelorMittal Long Products Canada promotes a culture of quality at all levels. It relies on the cooperation of all its employees and collaborators to maintain its reputation as a top quality supplier and thus ensure its sustainability.

Its customers can benefit from the expertise and strength of the largest steel producer in the world. ArcelorMittal has more than 10 research centers where hundreds of researchers are committed to the same mission: the continuous improvement of manufacturing processes and product quality. The goal is to better serve its customers, whose different markets are constantly changing.
